

Scotiabank (Barbados) Limited

Effective February 1st, the Bank of Nova Scotia in Barbados will become Scotiabank (Barbados) Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Canada.

The Bank of Nova Scotia has been operating as a Branch in Barbados since 1956. We have now taken the decision to reorganize our business to align with The Bank of Nova Scotia's other global operations, including those close to home in the Bahamas, Jamaica and Trinidad and Tobago.

There will be no impact to our customers' banking relationship with us.

We remain committed to investing and growing our Retail, Corporate and Commercial, and Insurance business in Barbados and will continue to be known as Scotiabank.
